Metamorphosis"

Gregor Samsa's Transformation

The story begins with Gregor Samsa waking up to find himself transformed into a monstrous insect. Despite his startling condition, Gregor's initial concern is for his job; he worries about being late for work and the repercussions of missing his train. His first thoughts are focused on his obligations and the burden of supporting his family financially.

Family's Reaction and Isolation

Gregor's family, including his father, mother, and sister Grete, are shocked and distressed when they discover his transformation. Their reactions vary from fear and disgust to concern. Gregor's appearance causes the family to isolate him in his room, and their attitude shifts from initial shock to resentment and neglect as they grapple with the burden of his condition.

Gregor's Decline and Family Struggles

As days pass, Gregor becomes increasingly alienated from human contact, experiencing physical decline and emotional despair. His family’s financial situation worsens, compelling them to take in boarders and reduce expenses. Meanwhile, Gregor's health deteriorates, and he becomes a burden rather than a source of support for his family.

Climax and Resolution

The story reaches its climax when Gregor, exhausted and malnourished, is discovered by the family in his room. His sister, Grete, suggests that they rid themselves of the "vermin." Gregor, realizing he is no longer wanted, retreats to his room and eventually dies peacefully. His death prompts the family to feel relief and hope for a better future, leading them to plan a new beginning.

Major Themes in "The Metamorphosis"

One of Kafka's central themes is the profound sense of alienation experienced by Gregor. His transformation physically isolates him from human society, but it also symbolizes the emotional and psychological distance humans can feel within themselves and from others.

within the Samsa family. Gregor's role as the breadwinner constrains his identity and self-worth, and his transformation exposes the fragility of familial bonds and the conditional nature of love and duty.

Mr. Samsa

Gregor's father is depicted as aggressive and authoritative, often expressing hostility towards Gregor after his transformation. His violent reactions and rejection of Gregor reflect the fragility of familial loyalty and the destructive potential of prejudice.
