The Pre-Change Landscape: Challenges in the Student Center

Before the advent of the innovative system, the Cornell Student Center was a lively but somewhat chaotic environment. While it served as a central point for student activities, several issues hampered its efficiency and the overall experience: Manual Booking and Scheduling - Limited Accessibility: Students and groups had to physically visit the center's administration office to reserve spaces or equipment, often leading to long wait times. - Double Bookings: Without a centralized digital system, overlapping reservations were common, causing frustration and scheduling conflicts. - Inefficient Communication: Notifications about reservations, cancellations, or updates were often delayed or lost in email chains. Resource Management Difficulties - Inconsistent Inventory Tracking: Equipment such as projectors, sound systems, and furniture were tracked manually, leading to frequent shortages or misplaced items. - Lack of Real-Time Data: Staff lacked immediate insight into resource availability, hindering quick decision-making. Impact on Student Engagement - Limited Flexibility: Students faced obstacles when trying to organize spontaneous events or meetings, which discouraged participation. - Fragmented Experience: The disjointed management of space and resources created a sense of disorganization, reducing overall satisfaction. Understanding these pain points was crucial as campus administrators recognized the need for a transformative solution to elevate the student experience.

The Birth of the Digital Revolution: Conceptualizing the Change

The idea to overhaul the Student Center’s management system emerged from a series of strategic planning sessions held in late 2020.
